

James F. (Jeb) Atkinson
Vice President, Logistics Practice

Jeb Atkinson specializes in national site selection, strategic portfolio management and surplus asset disposition management in the manufacturing and logistics sectors. He is a routine panelist at various industry conferences such as Eye4Transport, NAIOP and IAMC, and a frequent contributor to World Trade Magazine, Site Selection Magazine, and several city business journals including Jacksonville, Nashville, and Kansas City. Jeb also heads up Logistics Practice Group's DC Network Optimization program which combines transportation network and portfolio review with site selection - combining both strategic and tactical practices into one streamlined process.
